

SPECIFICATION SHEET : PART #RS75-2

The Beluga (1150lb) double-thread fishing magnet

The Beluga : 1150 lb (combined) pulling force, double sided round neodymium magnet, with two M10 eyebolt (2.95" diameter)

Description :

Great size for a fishing magnet. Appropriate for smaller areas. It's about as heavy as a liter of water (965 grams / 2.13 lb). Still has a good throwing weight.

This model with two eyebolts provides more versatility by allowing it to be used as a double-sided, or single sided magnet. The eyebolt can be screw into the side of the casing or through the magnet face.

What's in the box?

It includes two threaded eyelets. This assembly is made with A3 steel plate and coated with Nickel-Copper-Nickel to be the strongest and most durable type of fishing magnet available.

The holding power of 1150 lb is a combined maximum pull between the two magnetic face. Each side will produce around 575 lb of pulling force.

Recommended rope (included) : 8mm x 20m

Additional product recommended :

Threadlocker to keep the eyebolt from backing out.
